

GOVERNOR PINKHAM IS GIVEN ROUSING WELCOME BY LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS AND THE PEOPLE GENERALLY

Greeted Outside Harbor by Members of Ad Club and Democratic Representatives and Acclaimed by Crowds on Wharf and Along Streets of City During Parade to Capitol.

(From Wednesday Advertiser.)

For the first time, as Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, Louis E. Pinkham set foot on Hawaiian soil last night, when he stepped lightly down the gangplank of the steamship Honolulu into the midst of a welcoming throng of men and women, who had eagerly awaited his coming.

The Governor greeted the hundreds who crowded the Alakea wharf with a pleasant smile and showed no signs of the fatigue that goes with a rough voyage at sea. He beamed with good humor and good health.

The reception, the warm and sincere welcome that spontaneously found vent upon Governor Pinkham's arrival, was participated in by two or three thousand people.

It began when reception committees, representatives of the press, officials and friends went out in tugs and launches and boarded the Honolulu in the stream outside the harbor. It continued when the music of two bands and cheers from hundreds of throats greeted him at the wharf. It increased when the roar of a thousand or more shouted a welcome as he emerged with his escort from the wharf into the street. It assumed a triumphal note when expressed by the crowds that swarmed the sidewalks along the line of march through the city of Honolulu.

Climax of Great Welcome.

The climax was reached at the Capitol, where the entire makai side of the grounds was densely packed with a throng that brought the demonstration to an end with an ovation that lasted half an hour. Here, with the official salute of seventeen guns booming in measured tones, with the Hawaiian Band rendering the Star Spangled Banner, Aloha-Oe and Governor Pinkham's March; with the air lighted up with rockets and red fire, with resounding and repeated cheers from fellow citizens; with the fragrant breath of tropical Hawaii wafting the air, the Governor could not fail to feel that this indeed, was a fitting and solemn inaugural ceremony, conceived and carried out in spontaneous loyalty and sincere wishes for the success of his administration in the hands of all those gathered there.

The first formality of greeting to Governor Pinkham was off port, when the customs launch, Water Witch, with Senator J. L. Cooke, Senator D. E. Metzger, E. R. Stackpole, collector of the port; Supervisor Lester Petrie and representatives of the press and customs officers went out and were quickly passed aboard by Doctor Trotter, of the Marine Hospital and Public Health Service. Governor Pinkham greeted these visitors in the hallway leading into the dining saloon.

The launch Helene next drew up to the Honolulu, having on board Wallace R. Farrington, W. H. Hoogs, John K. Ewing, Col. J. W. Jones, Dr. C. B. Cooper, J. A. Gilman and C. H. Brown. Senator Metzger spoke the greetings of the various reception committees, saying:

Greeted For Democracy.

"On behalf of the combined committees, representing the Democratic party of Hawaii, Governor Pinkham, I extend you greetings, and the greetings are from all the people of Hawaii, who have the advancement of this country at heart."

"The Democratic party and all those who have the advancement of Hawaii at heart tender you our assistance in advancing the welfare of this country."

In reply, Governor Pinkham thanked the committees and those present for their good wishes and stated that he had prepared his announcement for the people and that it would appear through the medium of the public press.

While these pleasant exchanges of greetings were taking place on the Honolulu, the United States Navy tug Navajo, encircled the vessel with a band on board, playing patriotic airs, while others exploded fireworks and shot noisy bombs.

At the wharf the Governor was escorted from the vessel by Col. J. W. Jones, Col. C. W. Zeigler, Colonel Short and Col. C. B. Cooper. These were met at the ship's rail by Mayor Fern, replete in silk hat and Prince Albert coat, accompanied by his secretary, William Miles. The contingent of the Ad Club, dressed in white uniforms, lined up in double row along the upper corridor of the wharf and waved an arch with upraised arms, bearing lighted lanterns. Beneath him the Governor and the reception committee, marched out of the wharf, while two bands made the rafters ring with spirited music.

Parade Quickly Formed.

Outside, the procession was quickly lined up, a platoon of mounted police led and were followed by the Hawaiian band. Next in line were the uniformed members of the Ad Club, wearing white and carrying flaming Japanese lanterns and banners. The members of the territorial and county Democratic committees were next. Then came the Marine Band.

Following these came the Ad Club car with E. R. Stackpole, S. H. Brown, J. E. Ewing, Supervisor M. C. Pacheco and J. A. M. Johnson. Next was the car carrying Governor Pinkham, Colonel Jones, W. R. Farrington, Doctor Cooper, Mayor Fern and Secretary Miles. After these was another Ad Club contingent in business dress, the Filipino organizations, numerous decorated private automobiles and hum-

GOVERNOR PINKHAM ASKS SUPPORT OF CITIZENS THROUGH ADVERTISER

(From Wednesday Advertiser.)

Your Governor seeks the support of all good citizens and friends of the Territory of Hawaii.

This is the keynote of the first full statement of the policies he hopes to carry out made by Governor Pinkham, contained in an interview addressed to the press of Hawaii and presented to The Advertiser for transmission to the people of Hawaii.

The Governor makes it plain that he does not consider himself the Governor of one political party or of any one faction. He promises a square deal and asks for community support. He is strong for promotion, the safeguarding of the public health, economy in administration, the drawing together of all the racial elements that go to make up the citizenship of Hawaii and the elimination of graft and incompetence.

Governor Pinkham's Statement.

"To the Press:—Acting on a sensible local press suggestion, this memorandum, as an indication of certain policies of the coming administration, is submitted in lieu of impromptu interviews."

Your Governor will, should it become necessary, defend sound political and economic territorial Government as against Commission Government, bearing in mind, however, the relation of the Hawaiian Islands to national defense.

Your Governor will administer his trust impartially under the laws enacted and that may be enacted.

"He regards his trust as covering the welfare of all citizens and all people dwelling within the Territory."

"He will be, at all times, accessible to the humblest and will consider their pleas and opinions and seek to further their just and proper interests."

"He will welcome the presence and opinions of all fair-minded, honorable, public spirited citizens of whatever station, interests and means and will seek to maintain and encourage the helpful relations now existing with officers and officials representing the Federal Government."

"He will welcome the local representatives of foreign governments, and within the limits promote the welfare of the subjects they represent."

"He will accord the public press every consideration within his power, and seek to merit its support."

"Your Governor believes the public lands in the control, or to come under the control, of the Territory, should, in suitable areas, be first offered for homesteading to citizens, or those lawfully eligible, now within the Territory or arriving, and who, when the Territory is fully utilized, the land, alone or in cooperation with others, for their own and the public benefit."

"It is reported that within the Territory only 305,053 acres of land are under cultivation, of which 213,000 acres are in sugar cane."

"Evidently, while we hope for much greater development of the Territory has not an ample acre which public welfare can permit to lie idle or be held for speculation. Your Governor will bear this in mind."

"Fixed transportation has been quite extensively established."

"Good roads and motor vehicles promise much for small and isolated settlements in securing accessibility to markets and lessening social deprivation. Within practicable and economic bounds your Governor will advocate government assistance for the establishment of such transportation, where lacking and otherwise unattainable."

"There has been established here a relatively expensive commonwealth based on a somewhat narrow foundation. We depend on exports and imports. Ninety-eight per cent of our Hawaiian exports are embraced in sugar and pineapple products."

"The former is apprehensive of the future and the latter fears an oversupplied market."

"No normally established sugar plantation can at present suffer from legislation, but may from the world's over production."

"The Hawaiian situation will, in due time, be better presented, understood and considered. The result cannot now be predicted."

"Pineapple products have the world for a market."

"Rice and coffee equal one per cent; and thirty articles, or more, combined, represent the remaining one per cent of our exports. Comment is not necessary, as the situation has had and is having attention. The efforts in progress should be stimulated."

"Our balance of trade is unparalleled in the commercial world. For five years, 1907-1912, it totaled $104,658,270.00, an annual average of $20,931,644.00, equaling $109.87 per inhabitant."

"The greatest balance of trade the United States ever experienced was for the last fiscal year, to wit: $635,000,000.00, or $7.05 per inhabitant. We need to remember some of our blessings and advantages as experienced to the present time."

"More than ever the climate, scenery, public comforts, facilities, refined sports and hospitality of the Islands have a world-wide appreciation and attraction to growing numbers of visitors and travelers. It is an asset not only for the pleasure of others, but promises great material benefit to ourselves."

"Promotion that is effective both for tourists and permanent or seasonal residents will be supported."

"We have failed to adequately or

"Hawaii placed in the midst of the world's greatest waters, blessed with the perpetual peacefulness and gentleness of Nature's most kindly mood, may her people be imbued with a like spirit in their relations with each other and in public progress and civic ambition."—Governor Pinkham.

GOV. L. E. PINKHAM.

COAST ALOHA TO THE GOVERNOR

Two Brilliant Functions in San Francisco Were Given in His Honor.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 22.—The first official function in honor of Governor Pinkham since he took the oath of office before Justice McKenna of the United States Supreme Court at Washington, was that given at the Pacific Union Club of San Francisco on Friday evening, December 19, by local representatives of various sugar and mercantile enterprises of the Hawaiian Islands, R. F. Kithier being the toastmaster. It was a dinner given in famed Pacific Union style and proved to be a get-together affair, the after-dinner speeches displaying a delightful spirit of friendship for the new executive, while the latter showed in whatever remarks he made, that he desired only to serve all the people of Hawaii, give them a business administration, bring warring factions together and present a unified business front to the rest of the United States.

That Governor Pinkham was among friends was indicated by the cordiality and warmth of the personal greetings, as nearly all were kamaaina. Addresses were made by R. P. Rithet, George Rolph, James McNab, A. P. Taylor, Paul Isenberg and Governor Pinkham.

The table was set in oval shape, the center banked with mounds of red roses and yellow chrysanthemums. The Hawaiian element was not forgotten for, as the guests entered, they saw upon the chairs the familiar strings of Hawaiian leis, except that these were made of Christmas silver tinsel, and as worn about the shoulders of the guests presented a novel appearance. Governor Pinkham and toastmaster Rithet were adorned with ropes of carnation leis. Tiny Christmas trees, silvered glass holly and bells gave the table a festive appearance.

Hawaiian musicians, led by "Prince" Jack Heleluhe, sang at intervals during the evening, their "Old Plantation" song bringing Paul Isenberg and Gordon McKenzie into the ranks of the musicians to add their melodious voices to the evening's entertainment.

George Rolph was active in the preparations for the function, for he has been one of Governor Pinkham's close associates, both in Hawaii and in California. The guests were as follows:

Governor L. E. Pinkham, R. P. Rithet, D. Y. Campbell, George M. Rolph, C. K. McIntosh, Bruce Heathcote, Arch. C. Kaine, E. J. Bates, W. A. Lieber, August Hamburg, James McNab, MacKenzie Gordon, Captain William Martin, J. E. Leighton, Oscar Frank A. Brown, Paul Isenberg, W. R. K. Y. K. R. T. Rolph, A. P. Taylor, Roy Folger, W. Lutz, G. U. Hind, John Burk, Chas. J. Dickman, Uda Waldrop, Charles A. Stewart.

Second Hawaiian Dinner.

FERN DELAYS APPOINTMENTS

Mayor Says He Will Select Civil Service Commissioners January 6.

(From Wednesday Advertiser.)

Just before the convening of the board of supervisors yesterday, Mayor Fern said: "Yes, I will appoint new members of the civil service commission today and two school board janitors."

He appointed the janitors, but not the members of the commission.

After the session the mayor said: "I did not have time to appoint new commissioners. But these fellows are out of office. I will appoint their successors at the meeting of the board of supervisors on January 6."

Terms Expire Tonight.

In the meanwhile, there is a hiatus in the existence of the Honolulu civil service commission, as according to the local opinion of P. L. Weaver, deputy city and county attorney, Weaver holds that the terms of present members end at midnight tonight. If this is sound law, there will be a hiatus of full five or six days in the existence of the commission.

The business of the board yesterday consisted of routine allowance of bills, until it came to bills submitted by Charles F. Chillingworth for $250 for attorney's fees for assisting in police court prosecutions and a bill of $164.35 from the civil service commission for stenographer's fees in taking transcripts of evidence in cases heard by that body on appeal.

Opposed by Pacheco.

When these two bills came up, Supervisor Pacheco took the floor and all the furniture in and made a stout speech opposing the allowance of the Chillingworth bill. He claimed that no one had the authority to employ Chillingworth except the board of supervisors and that as a matter of fact Chillingworth had said he expected no compensation for his work. Attorney Weaver stated that if the supervisors allowed the bill, their act would be a legal sanction to the employment of special counsel and all would be straight according to law. The bill was allowed, Pacheco alone voting in the negative.

The civil service bill fared worse luck. Commissioner Petrie moved its allowance and was supported by Pacheco. But the opinion of Attorney Weaver was against the motion on the ground that the commission had been notified that no appropriation of money for the payment of the expense of trial of cases had been made and therefore the stenographers would have to go unpaid.

It was so voted by the board, Petrie and Pacheco alone voting aye.

Antone Kado was appointed janitor of the McKinley High School at a salary of $60 per month.

The boys of the McKinley High School were granted permission to put a lawn tennis court on the school grounds.

The board adjourned to meet Tuesday night, January 6.

Local Filipinos Celebrate with Comprehensive Program of Speeches and Music.

Over five hundred Filipinos and their guests gathered in the assembly room of Old Fellows Hall last evening to do honor to the memory of Dr. Jose Rizal, the "Filipino Martyr."

The occasion was the second anniversary of the kind held in this city by the Rizal Society, and the program was gone through with in a way indicative of the interest felt by all participating.

There were a number of guests present, including A. E. Larimer, secretary of the N. M. C. A.; Rev. R. Elmer Smith, pastor of the Methodist Church; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bank and many others.

One feature of the evening was the address of F. Leopold Theodore, who spoke in English on "Philippine Independence and the Young Filipinos."

Mr. Theodore accentuated the activities of the younger generation of Filipinos and their better understanding of popular government than did the old politicians of his native land, stating that in them was the hope of the country when it secures its independence.

Joseph Rose paid a high compliment in his talk upon the real character of the Filipino people at home, giving them credit for intense patriotism and self-sacrificing qualities.

Rev. J. W. Waldman opened the program and there were many other speakers, and the evening was enlivened with songs and music and refreshments.

HILLO, Hawaii, December 29.—Baseball uniforms have been ordered for the team which will represent Hilo and Hawaii in the Inter-Island tournament in Honolulu during the Mid-Pacific Carnival week.

The uniforms will be exactly like those worn by the New York Giants, but because of this fact the local people expect the Hilo ball players to be right up to snuff in the games they will figure in. The uniforms should arrive here about the end of January next.

The All-Chinese ball players were exact replicas of the New York Giants uniforms in Sunday's game when they were decisively trimmed by the Portuguese to the tune of seven to one.

While Tom Gunn, the aviator was thrilling hundreds by his daring feats in an aeroplane at Pearl Harbor on Sunday of last week, his father was dying at Oakland, California. Not until yesterday was the sad news conveyed to the Chinese aviator. In the meantime, the young man's brother left for San Francisco on the last steamer to attend to the funeral arrangements.

It was thought best to keep the news from the aviator as long as possible.

Mr. Gunn, senior, was one of the pioneer Chinese of California. He had resided there for nearly fifty years and had never returned to his native land. He had planned, however, to return to Canton with his wife within the next few months. The aged man was a pioneer in the moving picture business in the West, having invested heavily in the films before the moving picture business had developed to the extent it now enjoys. He was associated with Peter Baccigalupi in this enterprise and lost many thousands of dollars in the venture.

He is survived by a widow and seven children. The remains are to be shipped to China for interment and will be accompanied by Tom Gunn.

According to the San Francisco papers received last night, a frigid reception from a stony-hearted uncle awaited "Bunny" Kahn and his bride upon their arrival at that port on the steamer Sierra last week. Kahn was married in Honolulu to Miss Alexandra young woman. This fact was duly chronicled in The Advertiser, but at that time it was not known that the dotting uncle of the young man had objected to the match because of the youth of his nephew.

But soon after the young couple arrived at the Bay City, the uncle, A. Kahn, a wealthy real estate broker, was won by the charming manner of Mrs. Kahn, all was forgiven and now the young couple, after a honeymoon trip through California, will return here to make their home.

SACRAMENTO, California, December 31.—(By Associated Press Cable.)—Sentenced to be hanged for one murder, Burr Harris yesterday sent for Sheriff W. A. Hammel, of Los Angeles county, and confessed to him that he was guilty of another murder, for which it is believed, two other men are now serving long sentences in the State's prison.

Harris has been sentenced to hang on February 13 next, for the murder of Mrs. Rebecca Gay, a Christian Science practitioner. Realizing that there was little hope for him the condemned man determined to relieve his mind of another horrible crime, that of the murder of C. M. Pendell, a Los Angeles diamond broker, on June 25, 1912, in that city.

Harris insisted upon seeing Sheriff Hammel and upon the arrival of the sheriff, he told the full story of the crime of which he was not even suspected, and confessed to the sheriff that he had cashed the plunder, consisting of other precious stones as well as diamonds, in a safe hiding place.

It is believed that Harris has told Sheriff Hammel just where to look for the plunder taken from the murdered man.

Harris states that he confessed to get the crime off his mind.
